Nancy Wynne Tells of House Parties and Visits Over the Holidays—Large Affair Given by Mr. Randolph in Narragansett—Coxes Give Annual Dance

IT WAS hard to come back to earth, as it were, again this morning, after two long luscious week-end days, wasn't it? Indeed, and judging from the number I saw in the station on Saturday, leaving for various points of the compass, I should judge there were not many in this old town on Sunday or yesterday.

Quite the largest party yesterday was the Henry Brinton Coxe's evening of dancing and refreshments at the beautiful place in Penlyn. You know that is an annual party and Mr. and Mrs. Coxe never send out invitations, but they tell all their friends to come to see personally to drop in, too.

A GREAT many spent the week-end in Cape May. The Bryce Wynns went down as the guests of Sam Bishop, Jr., and the Herbert Caspers of the Wynns. The Algernon Clapps have a cottage for the summer and have moved down there with their small family.

EMILIE DE KOSENKO certainly has the most fetching of bathing cloaks. She came down on the beach at Cape May the other day enveloped in it. It is fashioned of blue and white with a fitting bathing cap of white covered with tiny white rubber flowers.

MR. PHILIP RANDOLPH gave a delightful house party at Narragansett Pier over the Fourth. For years the Randolphs, father and children, have gone to Narragansett for the summer season.

BILLY, aged five, like Jimmie Sildings in dear old "Slovenly Peter" (you remember that funny old book, don't you?), simply loves to slide down the banisters. Mother and father, having talked the matter over, decided that inasmuch as they also had passed through the age of sliding despite many warnings, it would perhaps be better to ignore the young gentleman and he would then get over the dangerous pastime sooner. But Billy did not seem to get over it, and one day re-occupying their cottage in Ocean City for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hunsberger and their family, of East Tulphocken street, are in Ocean City for the Fourth of July holidays.

WEST PHILADELPHIA Mr. and Mrs. William H. Boyd, of 4102 Baltimore avenue, are spending three weeks at the Sunset House, Wernerville.

NORTH PHILADELPHIA The Rev. and Mrs. Leon Eimmel and their family, of 2323 North Broad street, are spending the summer at Wildwood.

ROXBOROUGH Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Stafford, of 538 East Leverington avenue, will leave for July Fourth to visit Mrs. Stafford's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Kenworthy, at their cottage in Ocean City.

NORRISTOWN Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. Anders, Mr. and Mrs. P. Frank Hunter, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Ryder, Miss Ruth and Miss Isabel Ryder, Miss Louise Larzelere, Miss Catherine Yeakle, Mr. Joseph Foranoe, Mr. Edward Harley, Mr. Robert Borda, Mr. Arthur Beaman, from this section, are included in a house party that will spend the next two weeks at Wallops Island, Virginia.

I saw the doctor come out and get in his automobile, me thinking, G. gosh, I wonder whose sick, I wonder if she is?

Which just then I thawt of the bunch of roses Mr. Parkins sent to my sister Gladis, thinking, G. thats a good idee, I'll go and get them and bring them around for her, she needs them more than Gladis does.

No, sir, not if you're not sick, I see. And I kept on going and took the roses back and put them up in Gladis's room agen with the one I dident take, and now Mary Watkins dont speak to me.

you these, only now of course I dont haft to. And I showed her the roses, and she said, O, aren't they just too perfectly heavenly, and I see, yes, its too bad you're not sick, I mean its a shame I haft to take them back agen.

Which I started to do on account of not wanting to get heck for nothing, and Mary Watkins said, Well, I appreciate them much more now than I would if I was sick and couldent appreciate very good. You dont you give them to me anyhow? No, sir, not if you're not sick, I see. And I kept on going and took the roses back and put them up in Gladis's room agen with the one I dident take, and now Mary Watkins dont speak to me.
